The musical score consists of two staves. The top staff is a standard five-line staff with a treble clef. It contains several measures of music, including eighth and quarter notes, some with accidentals, and rests. Above the first measure of the top staff is the number "70". The bottom staff is a six-line staff labeled "TAB" on the left side. It contains fret numbers (0, 1, 2, 3, 4) and other markings like "X" and "1". A red arrow originates from the word "Kick" written in red and points to a bold italicized "f" (forte) dynamic marking located between the two staves at the beginning of the first measure.

The musical score for "The Wind" by The Beatles is presented in a three-staff format. The top staff is for guitar, the middle for bass, and the bottom for drums. The guitar part begins with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The melody is composed of eighth and quarter notes, with a tempo marking of 109. The bass part uses a bass clef and features a simple harmonic line with octaves and a few chords. The drum part is indicated by a single line with the letters T, A, and B, representing Tom, Alto, and Bass drums respectively. The score is divided into three measures, with the third measure containing a red '3' above the bass line, likely indicating a triplet or a specific rhythmic pattern.
